INTESTINAL IMPACTION.

Horrible Death of a Little Boy At Kelly.

Operation Performed, But Too Late to Save His Life.

A little son of Thomas Brasher, of Kelly, died Saturday from worms. The little fellow had been suffering greatly for some time and finally his stomach became very much distended and his sufferings were so excruciating that his physicians determined upon an operation. On Friday morning, three physicians taking part in the operation, the child's stomach was opened and a large ball of worms, some dead but most of them living, was taken from his bowels. There were in the impaction 103 worms varying in length from five to nine inches. The operation appeared to give needed relief, but the child was so weak that he could not survive the shock and died the next day.

KILLED BY CARS.

Colored Coal Miner Struck Near Bradshaw Crossing.

Had Been At Work At Empire And Was Probably Enroute Home.

Bone Townsell, col., of Allensville, was killed by the cars near Bradshaw's crossing, two miles south of this city Sunday morning. Corner Allensworth held an inquest and the jury returned the following verdict:

We, the jury, summoned to look into the cause of the death of an unknown colored man, found dead on the L. & N. railroad track about 500 yards north of the Bradshaw crossing, find that said man seemed to be about 24 years old. On or about his person was found a bunch of keys with a coal miner's tag on same, No. 531, also a pencil and a pay roll bearing the name of Bone Townsell. Said pay roll was from the Empire Mining Co. We also find that his left foot and his head and face were mashed beyond recognition. Signed—T. L. Morrow, foreman; W. H. Croft, John Broady, Garland Jones, Andrew Johnson, Amos Hawkins.

Later the coroner learning that the man's name was Townsell and his home Allensville. The remains were buried in the Pottersfield yesterday.

COUNTY WILL AID

Church Hill Farmers to Construct a Pike.

Road Supervisor Agrees to Grade the Roadbed and Crush the Stone.

Road Supervisor McReynolds was present at the Farmers' Institute Friday and made a very liberal proposition to the farmers of the Church Hill neighborhood.

He agreed to grade the Cox Mill road and crush the stone for a pike, if the farmers would furnish teams and drivers to scatter the stone. The farmers along the road will accept the proposition and assist as much as they can and in this way this important thoroughfare will be gradually piked all the way from Hopkinsville to Church Hill, about six miles.

This is one of the principal roads of the county, and the only one without a pike for some distance out of Hopkinsville.

It was on this road that the much heralded "Good Roads Builders" last year built about two hundred yards of pike. This road was badly cut up last winter but can be repaired with but slight expense and this piece of pike made the nucleus of a good road.

WAIVED EXAMINING TRIAL.

And Case Goes Over to June Grand Jury.

The case of William Pulley, who killed James D. Brown, near Hawkins, two weeks ago, was called in the County Court yesterday for examining trial. The commonwealth announced ready, but the defendant waived preliminary hearing and the matter goes over until the grand jury meets for the June term of Circuit Court. Commonwealth witnesses were recognized to appear before the grand jury on the 3rd day of the term.

WILL HARLOW DEAD.

Virginian Well Known in This County Passes Away.

Mr. W. O. Harlow, a relative of Capt. S. R. White, of Julien, and who spent a month with relatives in Christian county a few years ago, died at his home at Orange, Va., last week. He was 44 years old and unmarried. He was taken with pneumonia while attending the Charleston exposition and arrived home in a dying condition. He was a prominent real estate dealer at Orange. While in Kentucky he made many friends who will learn with regret of his death.

CAPTURED NEAR BELL.

Ed Wade, col., Rearrested but Later Dismissed.

Deputy Sheriff Will Starling captured Ed Wade, col., near Bell last Friday and brought him to this city. Wade is the man who escaped from a guard at the jail door about a month ago.

He was charged with having attempted an assault upon the person of Julia Springfield, col.

She refused to prosecute the case and Wade was released Saturday, the case having been compromised.

FELL FROM FENCE

And Broke Her Hip In The Joint.

Crofton, Ky., April 28.—Mrs. Rachel Parker, wife of Mrs. Bayless Parker, of Mannington, was the victim of a very serious accident. While attempting to get over a fence she fell and broke her hip in the joint. The fracture is a very bad one, and as Mrs. Parker is 78 years old, the chances for her recovery are considered slim.

FOREST FIRES.

Great Damage Done in Christian And Hopkins Counties.

Houses Burned, Tobacco Barns Destroyed, Fencing and Other Property Reduced to Ashes.

Forest fires in North Christian and on the edge of Hopkins county have caused a loss of several thousand dollars within the past week.

About 700 panels of fence were destroyed for Mr. Thomas Hord a mile north of the city and several farmers living near Crofton sustained losses.

Near Dawson, Carliss Minton's house and its contents, together with outbuilding fencing, etc., was burned.

In the same neighborhood Mrs. W. A. Morris lost all her fence which inclosed three hundred acres of farm, much of it in wheat.

Pinkney Brown and his son Tom Brown lost 400 panels of fence in the same neighborhood.

William Jackson's barn filled with tobacco was destroyed on Friday, a $100 loss.

Ben Ligon lost a tobacco barn and considerable fence.

Vince Jennings' barn, containing 500 pounds of tobacco, was burned and much fencing destroyed.

The fence around Mr. Lantoff's farm was destroyed.

George Wright lost a tenement house and considerable fence.

About 900 cross ties and 3000 rails belonging to J. W. Aulsebaugh were burned. Several small buildings were more or less damaged.

During the past week farmers have been burning off new ground and the big wild fire which blew every day caused the fires to become uncontrollable and the damage is incalculable but will reach far into the thousands.

STABLE STRUCK

By Lightning and Destroyed—Valuable Mare Killed.

During the severe electrical storm early yesterday morning lightning struck the large stable of the Luckett, Wake Tobacco company at Gracey. The building was destroyed, a mare valued at $300 was killed and about 60 barrels of corn, two tons of hay and some other valuables were also burned.

Another horse in the building was knocked down but not seriously injured.

The loss is probably $1,000. The property was partially insured.

FISHING PARTY

Spent Week On Leatherwood Creek, in Stewart County.

Messrs. J. O. Cook, J. B. Allensworth, E. B. Long and Stanley Long, of this city, R. J. Carothers, of Lafayette, and A. V. Rutland, Jr., and Dr. G. J. Good, of Empire, spent a week on Leatherwood creek, in Stewart county, Tenn., fishing. Their catch was hardly as heavy as was expected, but they landed enough game fish for table purposes during their stay and had some excellent sport. They returned Thursday night.

The Small of the Back

That is where some people find

They are likely to be despondent and it is not unusual to find them boasting of their troubles as if they hadn't enough already.

The fact is their kidneys are weak,

either naturally or because of sickness,

JUDGE E. P. TAYLOR.

We today announce Judge E. P.

Taylor, of Daviess county, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress.

Judge Taylor is a stranger to most of the Democrats of Christian county, but he enters the race with the hearty endorsement of the Democrats of his home county.

During the last four years Judge Taylor filled the office of county judge, and while judge of Daviess county he revolutionized the system of road working, and left an evidence of his economy and business sagacity—$25,000 to the county credit on his retirement.

In commenting on his candidacy the Owensboro Inquirer (his home paper) says: "His announcement ought to bring satisfaction not only to Judge Taylor's personal friends in the district, but to those who want to see the district represented by a man of more than ordinary ability, of ripe experience and of the highest character.  He is a finished scholar, a good speaker, and a gentleman."

The Owensboro Messenger, another of his home papers, says: "Judge Taylor is in the prime of life, is a courteous and polished gentleman and an able speaker, and the good impression of him that now prevails will grow when he enters into the campaign.

When the money question began to divide the Democratic party Judge Taylor was inclined to the gold side of the controversy, but as an honest man he made a close study of the question and came out with a decision in favor of the silver.

The question had come out in the district, and Judge Taylor had

New and Formidable Candidate

At the headquarters for the Elks convention to be held during the week of May 19 to 24, are about completed, and there is no doubt but that it will be the biggest thing of the kind ever held in Hopkinsville. The various committees are all hard at work and are determined to make a success of the big undertaking.

A very interesting feature, and one that grows in popularity each day, is the voting contest, by means of which one of the city's fairest girls will be selected Queen of the Carnival. The contest for Queen is becoming exciting. An entire new candidate was entered in the race

Saturday who started with support enough to give her a slight lead.

This was taken from her during the day, but she again gained largely in the vote of yesterday morning, which has not been counted. Miss Annie May Reynolds was the new entry, who is proving so formidable. The standing of the five leading candidates Saturday night was:

DERBY DAY

Will Draw a Great Crowd Next Week.

Louisville, Ky., April 28.—The millinery and dressmakers in this city are working every day during the day and part of the night, making hats and gowns for the Derby Day crowd. It is a fact that it is almost impossible to get in an order for a dress to be finished before May 3rd, Derby Day, and a number of the fashionable set of Louisville and out in the State will attend this great race of the West clad not exactly as they would like to be dressed. In all the years which have intervened since 1875, when Aristides, the little red horse, won the first Kentucky Derby, the interest has never been as great as it is in this coming race. Every box was sold several weeks ago, and the parties were made up in Washington, New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Chicago, as well as Louisville. When Starter Holtman drops the red flag and sends these game brutes away from the post on the first Saturday afternoon in May, the crowd will witness a doubt the most brilliant assemblage ever gathered together on the Western race course. The beauty and the chivalry of the West and the South will be there in all its glory, in beautiful costumes and many-colored hats.

Interest in the Derby has been intensified by the statement made yesterday by Tom McDowell that Allan A. Dale would certainly start in this blue ribbon classic of the Western turf. This splendid son of Halma has been turning his work in good shape, and Louisville turf critics to a man believe that he will take the measure of the chestnut willow, the wisp, Abe Frank, winner of the Tennessee Derby. It ought to be a splendid duel, and as in former years, a long shot may win, but in the opinion of well posted turfmen the race will finally narrow down to these two great colts by the time the head of the stretch is reached in this heart-breaking journey of a mile and a quarter. It will be a test of courage and condition as well as of speed, and the colt that wins is certain to be the best in the race and the best in the West. The Jockey Club people expect that fifty thousand spectators will be at Churchill Downs when the wire is reached.

He is jet black, with just a little white on each hind heel; of a handsome high, a model in form and style. As to style, action and grace in motion, he possesses as much as any combined horse living. He can trot in 2:55 or better and goes all the saddle gait with ease.

Excels in All Ways.

From its charming cover to itsbert Herier to its last page the May Ladies Home Journal excels in all ways. The most important new feature is the beginning of Ernest Thompson Seton's department for boys, which is written and illustrated by the famous naturalist-author-artist. Lindsay Denison, who knows President Roosevelt in a very personal way, writes of "The Outdoor President," and Helen Keller continues the marvelous story of her life. The fiction features are Miss Porter's "Those Days in Old Virginia," and the first part of a delightful story by Grace S. Richmond called "The Indifference of Juliet." Nellie Blanchard tells "How the Birds Build Their Nests," and Will Bradley shows the boudoir of "The Bradley House." Mr. Bok's editorial is a fine bit of sarcasm aimed at the wise New Yorkers, and Mr. Mahan his literary talk deals with the reading habit and several new books and writers of note. There's no end of good and helpful advice and interesting facts in the various departments, and the illustrations are conspicuously attractive. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. CASTORIA
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams

Daughters of the American Revolution.

This society was organized some years ago under the leadership of three patriotic women, two of whom were Kentuckians, for the purpose of promoting a love of country, and awakening patriotism which seemed to be dead or sleeping in the hearts of our people. The best way to do this is by studying the early history of our country, and becoming familiar with the characters and deeds of our ancestors, who gave their fortunes and lives to establish this republic, and to secure to us the many blessings of the liberty we now enjoy; and also to teach our children to revere their memory, and to prefer death to dishonor or to any stain on the bright escutcheons they have bequeathed to us.

This is a heritage of many generations and we can go back for centuries, and still find brave deeds, and honorable lives held up for admiration, even as we are taught, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches."

The society has a membership of nearly fifty thousand, composed of the best and most substantial women of the entire country, and when all world for one object, can wield a mighty influence. They have a magazine which is more than self sustaining, and a yearly income of nearly sixty thousand dollars.

There are two most important objects for which they are working, the Continental hall which is to cost two hundred thousand dollars, the site of which is now being selected, and the Monument to the martyrs who perished on the Prison Ships, for which a considerable sum has been raised. Of course the different chapters nearly all have some special or local work to do. The ladies of Hopkinsville, who are known to be willing to assist in any progressive movement, are asked to organize a chapter and to do their part in the work of this society.

ANOTHER WASHINGTON.

A Clerk From Christian County Takes the Bankrupt Law.

Another George Washington has taken the bankrupt law. This time it is George Washington Allen, a clerk in a store in Christian county. He owes $1,527.36 and has assets aggregating $44.50. Deputy Clerk Lindsey says this is the fourth George Washington that has taken the bankrupt law. He feels proud of his office, for he says that two other parties with surnames of Thomas Jefferson and one with Andrew Jackson are also guests of honor in his office.—Owensboro Inquirer.

SECRET MARRIAGE.

Lyon County Comes to the Front With Romantic Wedding.

The secret marriage in last issue was that of Mr. Joe B. Smith, a prominent farmer between the rivers and brother of County Clerk J. M. Smith, and Miss Sadie Crumbaugh, the handsome and accomplished daughter of County Judge W. L. Crumbaugh, says the Eddyville Tale of Two Cities.

They took their friends entirely by surprise, and were married by Rev. U. S. Tabor, at the residence of Mr. J. M. Smith, on April 8, but they guarded the secret so well that it was known to only three or four people until last Saturday. Both of the young people are exceedingly popular, and their friends everywhere wish them a long and happy life. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Mollie Crumbaugh Bennett, widow of the late Chief Justice Caswell Bennett.

MOVES TO PEMBROKE.

Mr. Ed. Mays, one of the most progressive and up-to-date merchants, is moving his stock of goods to Pembroke, this week, where will reside in the future. We regret to lose such people as he and his most estimable wife, but hope they may realize their fondest anticipation in their new home. He is clever to a fault, and does one thing, and that is to get the goods and the needs of the people in the State—Eddyville Tale.

SHAKING TREES

For the Purpose of Dislodging Injurious Insects.

To shake about 200,000 peach trees and 50,000 plum trees for the purpose of dislodging injurious insects is a formidable task, yet it was successfully accomplished several times between April 18 and June 1, 1901, by the Hale Georgia Orchard Company, at Port Valley, in Georgia. This insect against which this action was taken was the curculio beetle.

Memorable Cavalry Review.

One of the happiest moments in one's life is when he can stand and watch in full action, troops of cavalry in his own country's uniform. THE WELCOME RAIN.

Heavy Precipitation Yesterday Morning Ends the Drouth.

The dry spell, the effects of which were being seriously felt, was ended yesterday morning by a heavy rainfall. A slight shower Friday night did some good, the rainfall being .38 of an inch. The rain yesterday, though, was a real relief to the parched earth, the precipitation during Sunday night and up to seven o'clock Monday morning being 1.55 inches. This fall of nearly two inches in three days, with prospects of more, has given all growing crops a fine start.

Wheat of course is most benefited and it sadly needs something to bring it out.

Corn is just coming up and some of the tardy farmers have not yet planted. Those who planted in time will have all of the advantages of a seasonable start.

Strawberries are just dropping the bloom, and the rain could not have come at a better time for this crop, which promises to be very abundant.

Gardens will soon be growing nicely and in the city a great deal of attention will this year be paid to gardens, as vegetables bid fair to be very high in the markets.

THE REAL WILD WEST

Indians, Cowboys and Bronchos Gave Thrilling Exhibition.

Buckskin Bill's Wild West show yesterday afternoon and night in point of attendance was a success, and it was no less a success as an entertainment. The horses were real "bronchos," the Indians were real Indians and the cowboys rode with a solidity of seat and grace which gave them the stamp of being the real thing.—Louisville, Ky., Courier Journal, June 18, 1900.

Let it Alone.

Scott's Emulsion is not a good medicine for fat folks. We have never tried giving it on a real fat person. We don't care. You see Scott's Emulsion builds new flesh. Fat people don't want it. Strong people don't need it.

But if you are thin Scott's Emulsion is the medicine for you. It doesn't tire you out. There is no strain. The work is all natural and easy. You just take the medicine and that's all there is to it.

The next thing you know you feel better—you eat better—and you weigh more. It is a quiet worker.

TIRED OF LIFE

And Slew Himself in the Loneliness of a Great City.

"After writing a note saying the act he contemplated was a 'suicide one done in an insane manner,' J. C. Arvin, aged 20 years, shot and killed himself Friday in his room in Chicago. A few minutes before he had been visiting in the parlor of the flat with his landlady, Mrs. Hannah Ray, and several of her neighbors. He expired before the physician arrived. The bullet entered his brain behind the right ear. Arvin was a cripple, and because of this was dependent upon parents and brothers. His home was at Pembroke, Christian county, Ky." The above paragraph from The Chicago Record-Herald tells of the tragic death of a crippled boy who lived between Pembroke and Trenton. No other details have been received.

THE TIME IS PAST

For cheap buggies. Very frequently you see a buggy of a superior make, such as WOODHULL, SCHACHT, TROY or COLUMBUS, that has been used constantly for TEN YEARS, some of them FIFTEEN YEARS. They cost nearly twice as much, but they last four or five times as long, and the people are finding out they have been making a grave mistake in buying the "CHEAP JOHN" grades. We notice this in the brisk trade we are having in the HIGH GRADE WORK this season.

We carry some cheap buggies too for those who haven't the means to buy the best. Our assortment contains a number of wire wheel fancy jobs. We are making good our promise to carry the biggest line of Buggies and Carriages to be found in any one house in the State.

IN FERTILIZERS
